

The present is for us to gaze across the threshold of tomorrow

Our childhood fancies passed, we must create new dreams

Dreams which will lead us in diverse directions

Away from these shared moments of time and into the future

A future that demands our hopes, our dreams, and our aspirations.

*Behind us are memories,
but the threshold of time awaits our crossing.*

Dr. Berger and Mr. "C",

A yearbook page cannot convey all the feelings we have for you, who have bridged the void between administration and students with openness, friendship, and concern. For that . . . and much, much more, thank you. We wish you love and many future triumphs.

Frankly gentlemen, I'm getting a nosebleed!

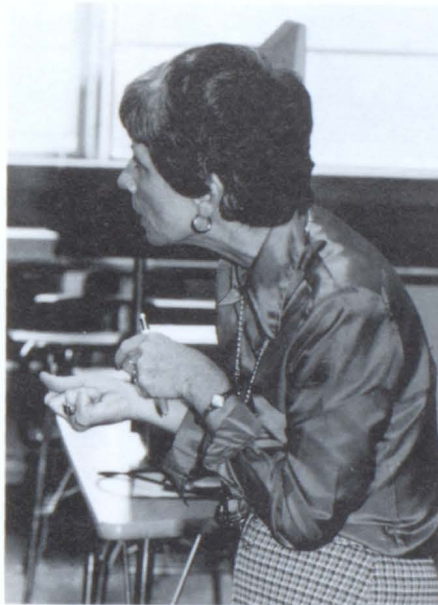

"The Thinker"

Oh, to be a fish!

This is the third time Metro's sent me a risqué film!

Do I hear where you're coming from?

Oh my God, something moved!

Roger, we cannot put that in the book!

A centerfold for the yearbook? Never!

Ah, sweet Pheobe, thou hast returned!

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

That's not part of our French curriculum!

It would be funnier in Latin.

My mother. I think I'll keep her.

My toothpaste? The same as Mr. Aniello's of course.

Hey bobo, this is Spanish, not Math!

Don't you dare tell me how to double space!

You left your pom poms where?

Do I really look like Lois Lane?

You're gonna slave for me!

BUSINESS

SCIENCE

Take that picture and I'll break your neck.

You made up what date points!?!

Oh, I love those zamboni jokes.

Whopeeeeeeee!!!

Suffield is an old town and Isaac is a Newtown.

I've lost my train of thought.

Stock Market Momma just brought me in 4 to 1 at Pimlico.

And no oil soaked through!

No, I don't deal with that type of speed!

"You ain't nothing but a hound dog!"

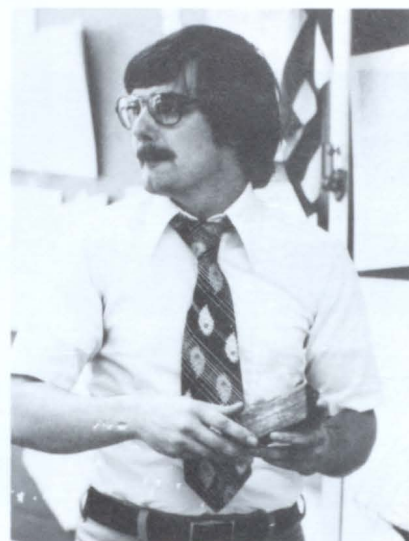

No, we don't have a student by that name . . . It's a long story!

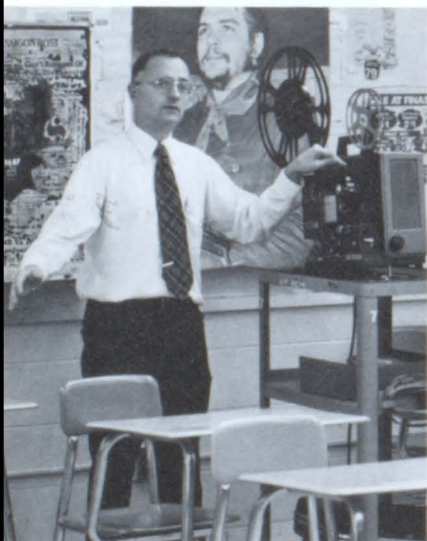

Nothing like a good book before bed.

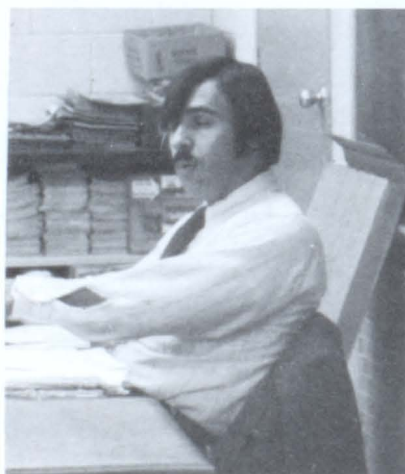

At last, my membership as a "Mao"sketeer!

. . . 2 down, bottom of the ninth, Big "K" on the mound.

Wait! I'm just getting to the best part!

"The do run run yeah, the do run run."

Your wish is granted!

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Aw . . . come on!

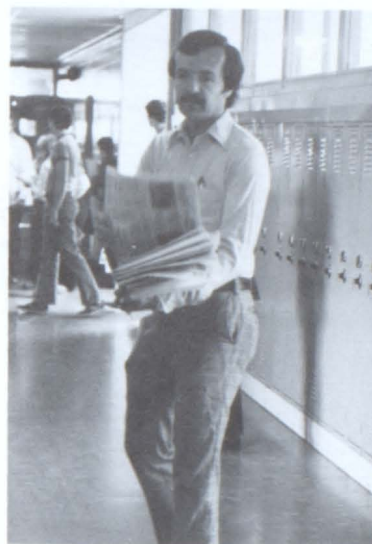

Who knows what evil lurks . . .

Who stole my colored chalk!

@*%$¢# yearbook photographer!

Extra! Extra! Yankees win series!

Go ahead and beg. Hot chocolate's 15¢ for everyone.

I've never seen one of those before!

Sure you have to see your dying grandfather in guidance!

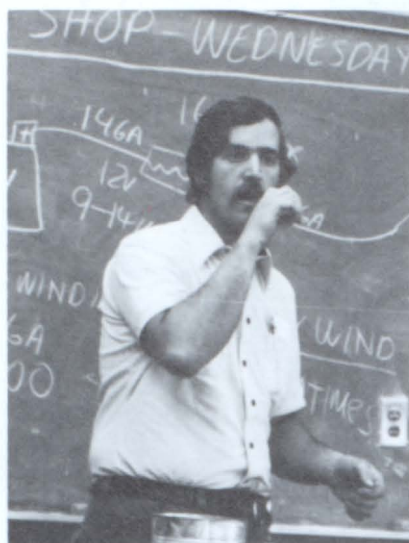

No, I don't need a pass!

SPECIAL EDUCATION

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

You can eliminate hangnails with it too!

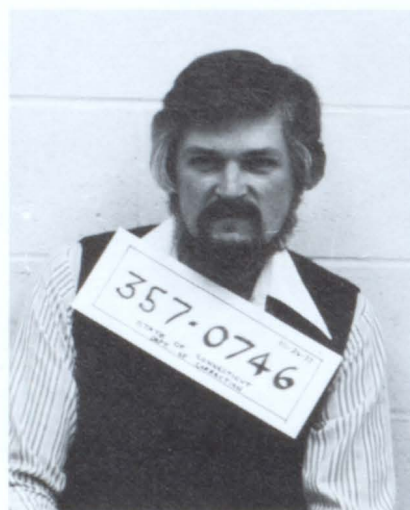

If it doesn't start, punch it.

Who put the Elmer's on my coffee jar?

Can you find me in this picture?

Social Security 408-72-7756; shoe size 10½ D; eyes — red; hair — yes.

Bikini band uniforms? Excellent idea!

Eenie, meenie, minie . . .

Your shirt's caught in the fourth row.

I bet they all think I can read this stuff.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

Concentration is the key to any sport.

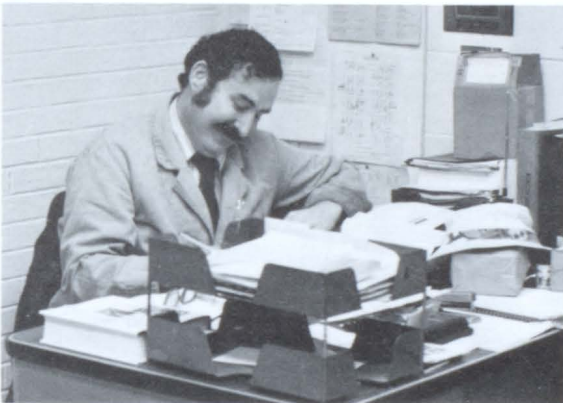

My toothpaste? Why do you ask?

Touché . . . foiled again.

She didn't watch the birdie.

Dear Nancy, is it a boy or girl?

Hair today, gone tomorrow.

Animal husbandry has nothing to do with married life.

A flying cow? I'll get right on it.

With fronds like these, who needs anemones?

GUIDANCE

"Watt's" the matter?

Hey! Stop that human relating in the hallway!

You told the college to do what with the application?!

Where did I put my application to Baypath?

Almost — be patient!

No, but I expect him here shortly.

Yes, it will balance!

Not again!

HOME ECONOMICS, NURSE, SECRETARIES

Oh, I love those happy homemaker jokes!

SUPPORTING CAST

Hurrah! All films are returned!

Want a ride?

And don't get out again!

Can it wait 'til tomorrow?

I do all the dirty work!

Not another schedule change!

Group calorie counters.

Are my galumkes ready yet?

To believe with one's mind, is to be able to go higher and farther than any star.
For as long as you and your mind believe in what you want to you can truly become that one person you've been longing for.

You are master of your own destiny
If you choose to stand idly by
And not try to better yourself
You will never live up to your expectations
But if you strive for your goals;
The effort will not have been wasted.

CLASS HISTORY

We had only just opened the door when we were swept into the confusion and chaos of the early days at Suffield High. Class jackets were our uniforms while permanent smiles, unrestrained enthusiasm, and defiant helplessness were our chief weapons. We tested ourselves in the classrooms, upon the stage, at the dances and on the athletic fields. Suddenly the year was over and we relaxed, knowing that there would be a place waiting for us upon our return in the fall.

As sophomores everything came a little easier to us, and our advances in all areas of high school life were evident. We were confident of our abilities and even if we did sell ourselves into a day's slavery, it was only to show our confidence and school spirit. For the same reason we sported class rings and screamed at the pep rally. And when we paused to rest summer was upon us.

Juniors! No, not just juniors, upperclassmen. Sports, theatre, love, and chemistry held no mystery for us (well, maybe chemistry held some — but that was only school-work). As our complexions cleared from the candy sale and shock from the demerits for a not-so-secret trip to McDonald's wore off, we danced our way through the Junior Prom and sped on toward the 1977-78 year. We wished some old friends goodbye and smiled with surprise when the first person asked us how it felt to be a "big senior."

In September, there were adjustments to be made. The lunches at McDonalds just didn't taste as good now that they were legal, and the freshmen looked so little . . . and the world so big. The world called to us but before we heeded the invitation there were magazines to sell, classes to attend, applications to fill, a play to perform, a ball to attend, yearbooks to sign, and goodbyes to make. With all that behind us we were at last ready to open the next door (just a crack) and look through it toward the future.

CLASS PROPHECY

Having received an invitation for the twenty-fifth reunion of the Class of "78" at MIKE MANNIX'S mansion, we arrive a few days early to see the old town. We are nearly caught in a speed trap, until policemen WALLY ROSS and STEVE HARRISON recognize us. Paramedic KEN NEBEL is there too, and he invites us to come with him to Suffield General Hospital, built through a grant from millionaire TIM DUNN. Its walls display the masterpieces of ED DUMONT, SUE OLTSCHE, DIRK ZENO, and PAULA LUCAS. Roaming the hallways, we note REGINA BARTON, ROBIN BUSKEY, KATHY DALGLIESH, PEGGY COLSON, WENDY MOLTER, and biochemist CHERYL LESTER scurrying around as if they were still just a little late to class. Only now they are hurrying to help DR. PAM MAREK and others save lives. Next, we see cameraman MARK AUSTIN filming a special on DR. GEORGE ROEBELEN while LOUISE MERO is photographing him for the cover of TIME, a position occupied just last week by archeologist NANCY NOBLE. In the next room Bermuda Triangles' ace pitcher LEW CANNON is undergoing treatment from DR. MARYANN GOLEC as his teammate TOM ADAMS offers words of good cheer. Upstairs, psychologists PAT KINSMAN and PAT SHELDON discuss cases with special educators MARY-JANE DOYON, LISA RAPP, and social worker CAROL TRAMONTE. Upon leaving, we stumble into the secret headquarters of the armed services and are warmly welcomed by General DON ELKEY. Our Alma Mater is well represented with Navyman JAMES WALSH, Marine STEVE ZACZYNSKI, and Airforcemen BYRON ANDREWS, MONICA HEATHERSTONE, and CHRIS KNAB. We soon depart in order to visit the Suffield Veterinarian Center where DR. SANDRA SERRA, assisted by LINDA LECLERC is checking TERRY KELLER'S horse, "Sagitta," who will be ridden by JOANNE TORRE in the upcoming Derby. ANNE FORMON has just put "Sagitta" through his paces and offers us a ride to the State Environmental Protection Agency. There, LINDA VOSSSEN is discussing wetland preservation with LINDA ABBOTT and STEVE LONGO. They all feel that Agri-Businessman JOHN UPHAM may have just the ideas and answers they need. From here we enter "Sagitron," MARLENE MANNIX'S sprawling corporation. Secretaries PAM VALEO, DEBBIE McANDREWS, and JANE WOISHNIS direct us to MARLENE'S office. We pass computer researchers KATHY QUINN, ANDRE GROSYCK, and SHARON ATKIN informing executives SUSAN SPAULDING, SANDY FETKO, JOHN PHILLIPS, and DAVID VAKALIS of their latest achievements. Next door engineers ART CHRISTIAN, BOB ROSATO, ERIC KRICHBAUM, and DAN PETILLO are hard at work. Reaching the office, we are ushered inside by bilingual secretary PAULA KNOX. MS. MANNIX is conferring with accountants ROBERT CRAFT, DAN COLTURI, and ZACHARY REYNOLDS while the recording subsidiary's lawyers, KEITH DINES and JAYNE SKIZEWSKI, discuss LOU FRANK'S latest gold album. Suddenly a tree crashes through the building; we shinny down the trunk and find lumberjacks JERRY ZAK and TIM BLAIR working a two-man saw. We leave this disaster scene and cross to the stage door of the Picard Theatre. Inside DAN DAVID and LISA GALLANT are diligently rehearsing ROGER HEDDEN'S new play while he sits in the audience between his wife, Princess Caroline of Monaco, and their royal lifeguard, GREG BENSON. We leave with them for the party at MANNIX Manse, stopping at the school complex to pick up elementary teachers RUTH LOISEAU, ANN GAGNE, and ROBIN DOWD, along with LARRY MOORE and STEVE ZAVISZA from the High School Music and History departments. Our high expectations are more than justified in the beauty of the mansion designed by STACY THOMPSON, decorated by CHERYL RUTZ, and landscaped by SCOTT HISER. At the Manse MIKE'S personal secretary SANDY LADUKE directs us toward the ballroom where we admire the original art of SUZANNE O'BRIEN, NINA D'AMICO, and MICHAEL CONNORS. Reunited at last we pause a second, reflecting on what a smashing crew we are.

CLASS WIL

Linda Abbott leaves hoping that someone in college will come before Abbott on the class list, and also leaves Diana Keene still wanting to be left something.

Tom Adams leaves 3,421,322,190 different bridge hands containing 5 hearts, 4 clubs, 3 spades and 1 diamond to Mr. Greenleaf.

George Allen leaves only because he has to.

Laurie Allen leaves Mr. Tanguay two dollars of monopoly money, a dog leash for John Fitch, and her sister Karen to Miss Napier.

Byron Andrews leaves a pair of gold plated Pro Keds to Mr. Hartmann.

Sharon Atkin leaves for the drive-in through the Silver Carriage and OutPost to H.P.'s.

Jill Belliveau leaves for the drive-in through the Silver Carriage and OutPost only to hear Sharon say HP this, HP that.

Greg Benson leaves all the initiations of Suffield High to his sister Kathy.

Penny Berger leaves Lis and Becky to keep in line, Mary to Mr. Graft with his fieldtrips to Mac's, Terry to finish where she left off in FFA, and wishes Mr. "m" and his new wife all the happiness in the world.

John Bielonko leaves forever.

Bruce Blair leaves Mr. "C" wondering how the guys on thin ice made it.

Steve Bruyette leaves a piece of gum underneath Stas' desk for anyone who gets hungry.

Richard Bryll leaves all his dirt (from shoes) to Stas, all his knowledge and wisdom to the FFA chapter, and $219.00 to the lunchroom because that is what they charged him for the year.

John Burton leaves Sven, Bjorn, and Olaf each a stein of fine Norwegian grog.

Robin Buskey leaves Mr. Hartmann a bag of golf tees.

Tom Cain leaves good luck and good health to the 1978-79 basketball team, his thanks to Mr. Hartmann for a great season, and the kink to whoever wants him.

Lewis Cannon leaves his fully autographed cast and x-rays to Mr. Thomas.

Richard Carney leaves Mr. "C" with his forwarding address so he can keep the letters coming.

Ed Cerri leaves the melted rubber in the parking lot to Kevin Phelps.

Debbie Charland leaves her sisters, Gloria and Esther, all the knowledge that she has gained from Suffield High School.

Art Christian leaves a set of road maps to Linda; maybe she'll use them.

Peggy Colson leaves the night she got stuck in the mud on the front lawn of S.H.S. to Jane Woishnis, Jimmy Richardson, and Mr. Thompson to look back and laugh upon.

Dan Colturi leaves Drew Ashley and John McLaughlin to carry on in the tradition that they know best.

Mike Connor leaves memories of four years of hellraising.

Robert Craft leaves his traditional but superlative basketball knee pad to S.H.S. in hopes that one day it may be worn again by a player who can display as much dazzling ability as its previous owner.

Naomi Cramer leaves to Cheryl Beresford the back seat of the bus on her last New York trip.

Kathy Dalglish leaves one small dent in the Driver Ed car as the last of many Dalglishes, in hopes that S.H.S. will survive until the next generation comes along.

Donna D'Amico just leaves.

Amy Danise leaves Cindy Gagne a punch in the arm and her seat in silent study.

Dan David leaves Jeff, Kit, and Pic with confidence.

Bill Davis leaves his spot in the smoking room for anyone, and leaves his brother with Mr. "C" in the office.

Pat Dilko leaves good luck with Field Hockey and good times to Sue Martino, and the rest of the family to keep up the name for those Dilkos who have already passed through.

Keith Dines leaves Jeff Crouse still smiling.

Laurie Doane leaves Kim Engelke for her brother, and Robin and Danny Hinckley to keep an eye on her.

Robin Dowd leaves a bouquet of marigolds to Mr. Picard, and hopes that next year Mrs. Gregor will have a VERY NICE, GOOD D Period English class.

Mary-Jane Doyon leaves her last brother Brian, looking eye to eye with Mr. G., hoping that he will grow.

Ed Dumont leaves behind a memory of what's to come in the future freedom.

Mark Elcock leaves all his demerits, which are an awful lot, to Mr. "C."

Don Elkey leaves all his problems to Mr. Thomas and Mr. Gregor.

Rich Evans leaves a little common sense along with $C_9H_8O_4$ to D.H. for N.C.C.C.C.C.

Sandy Fetko leaves the few appearances Lisa and she made in Constitution, and the many appearances they made in silent study to Mr. Davis to remind him it wasn't a punishment.

Howie Ford leaves all the memories to Leslie.

Anne Formon leaves her little brother the guts to make it all the way through S.H.S.

Lou Frank leaves all the English teachers; let them face Math.

Ann Gagne leaves Mrs. Kalber, who made her smart enough to take care of her own children.

Lisa Gallant leaves a smile to Mr. "C," Bubbles to Mr. Hartmann, and many thanks with much love to D.J.P.

Glenn Gemma leaves his crooked putter to Mr. Greenleaf.

MaryAnn Golec leaves Mr. "K" all her Bruins notes and three star selections, Mr. Grous a picture of the "75" Red Sox, all the bumps and bruises she caused in hockey to Mrs. Novak, and to Mr. "G" a chain of paper clips.

Sarah Grace leaves Mary and Steve to contend with Mr. "C."

Andre Groszyk leaves a soccer ball to Mr. "G."

Jennifer Hall leaves Mr. Cain some peace and quiet and two cheeseburgers.

Stephen Harrison leaves his share of the bean jello to Mr. Gowdy and the rest of the E period Asian Studies.

Monica Heatherstone leaves her tennis racket with the broken strings and a can of used tennis balls to Mr. Hartmann, and all the broken test tubes to Mr. Thomas.

Roger Hedden leaves a musical rose to Molly, a Double Entendre to "G," a charter membership in the Wes Hobby "nice ending" fan club to Pic, and heads over the shattered rainbow towards Tom Wingfields "lightening litworld."

Scott Hiser leaves the head of the percussion section solely to George Rossetti.

Katie Hoffman leaves Mr. Baker C.P. to go with Steve, Audrey, and Tom.

Brian Hubbard keeps everything for himself.

Debbie Isbiter leaves all the good times but takes the memories forever.

Linda Jackins leaves Kim Engelke the alligators that only she could see, to Sudie one broken airplane, and to Grace Hill the bus windows to draw the kiki bird.

Paul Keller leaves all his good wishes to everyone that comes to Suffield High School.

Patti Kinsman leaves love and echoing footsteps on the Threshold of a Dream.

Paula Knox leaves her timed writings to Mrs. Kraus, her sympathies to "P's" next pianist, and her love to all.

Barbara Kolnsberg leaves the annual pumpkin on Clifford to Mr. Duni.

Carol Kotowski leaves Mr. Gowdy a plate of moo-shi pork.

Leona Kulas leaves Walter, Kathy, Richie all her love and wishes them the best through high school. She also leaves Lori M. and Lisa K. with the memories of their English class and great discussions.

Sandy Kulina leaves a left drive, a back handspring, and four laps to Terry Anne.

Sandy LaDuke leaves two more LaDukes.

Linda LeClerc leaves all her rabbits to Mrs. Breakell and all her Vo-Ag scores to Mr. Graft.

Cheryl Lester gladly leaves Mr. Pacocha's auditions, and "deah noy key keah" to Kim Engelke.

Ruth Loiseau leaves Mrs. Kraus with many thanks.

Steven Longo leaves future FFA members to match his records as treasurer.

Paula Lucas, of sound mind and body, leaves Mr. "K" a ticket for the future, but most of all she leaves one last wink to Pat Barret.

Marlene Mannix leaves Mrs. Kraus with lots of fond memories and Jody with one more year to go.

Michael Mannix leaves his track shoes to little pinhead.

Pam Marek leaves this school her trustworthy field hockey stick in hopes that it will be left in good hands and spirits, not to mention staying together in the process.

Bernine Martyn leaves Wendy the will to finish, the desire to succeed, and the strength for both.

Louise Mero leaves with good times of yesterday and for good times of tomorrow.

Pat Molleur leaves the track team running around in circles, a stooping hug for Mr. Gregor, a song and dance pour Le Bon Docteur, and much love to many friends.

Wendy Molter leaves Trent two years behind; and to Bob Clark two pennies and one broken telephone.

Ken Nebel leaves behind memories, both good and bad, heads for a new life, and is hopeful of a better future.

Nancy Noble leaves Mrs. Heywood yet another blank ladder diagram.

Susie O'Brien leaves Suffield High with a smile and a tear and fond memories of the good times with Sue, Jayne, and MaryAnn.

Sue Oltsch leaves Suffield High with fond memories of her teachers and friends, hoping they will all meet again.

Gay Parry leaves with her "sister" Pam in search of ABFTOTBS. She also leaves two half cans of spray paint to the class of '79.

Pam Patterson leaves Michael Mannix's shoulders to the next person who is too short to reach the side of the school.

Dan Petillo leaves his worn out shoes to Mr. Tanguay for all the marching he did, and an empty spot in the band for him to fill.

John Phillips leaves all his broken hockey sticks to Mr. Green.

Cecil Pitcher leaves his scoring punch to Mark Sullivan and Chris Noe, and for the students who have Mr. "G" for English and soccer, they have a good coach and a good teacher.

Kathy Quinn leaves Shaun searching for another member for his fan club and a book of empty passes signed by Mr. Green.

Paul Radziewski leaves yachi bo bos to Joe Fusick!

Lisa Rapp leaves repeating Mr. Davis' words, "It's not a punishment, IT'S NOT A PUNISHMENT . . ."

Zachary Reynolds leaves his smile to bring hope to the distressed.

Diane Ringuette leaves for good.

Wally Ross leaves his smiles and bad jokes to Valerie to pass on to all the rest.

Robert Rossato leaves Dr. Connelly with only one "robert" to contend with.

Cheryl Rutz leaves Melanie for Mr. "C" to cope with, Kathy Kulas to always remember all the good times during the summer of '76 and at the races, and much love to Mr. "C" . . . (one big "YI" to next year's Varsity Cheerleaders).

Mike Ryan leaves health and many successful seasons of tennis to anyone who can handle Mr. Hartmann's workouts. To Mr. Hartmann: thanks for four years of good tennis.

Sandy Serra leaves her smelly, old basketball sneakers and sweat socks to Coach Novak.

Patty Sheldon leaves empty halls and classrooms to be filled with laughter by others who love a good laugh as much as she does.

Jayne Skizewski leaves with a tear in her eye, a smile on her face and many fond memories. She also leaves Mr. Baker the roller skates she wore as a slave and the happy face she wore as a Lab Assistant.

Debi Skorka leaves giving a part of her wings to her brother Mark in hopes that he learns how to use them. Hold your head up kid, we'll make it.

Stephen Smith leaves a book full of nicknames for anyone who wants them.

Susan Spaulding, "Sister Susan" leaves S.H.S. to "Brother Bob" with best wishes and good luck.

Brian Sullivan leaves Mr. "G" a case of Grecian Formula for the Sullivans to come.

Mark Swider leaves his record of forty absences and ninety tardies in one year.

Peter Terlesky leaves with the riding style of Fuller.

Betty Thresher leaves sa mauvais grammer in Francais a Dr. Connelly qui put up avec it pour le last two annees.

Joanne Torre leaves the privilege of being placed on top of lockers, picked up, and thrown — to anyone 4'10" and under, all pencil sharpeners to those who can reach them, and to Miss Breakall, all shovels and pitchforks to clean her own stalls.

Carol Tramonte leaves Stu Fuller to anyone who needs psychiatric assistance.

John Upham leaves with "Strap" fighting over the bitter conflict of war.

Pam Valeo leaves with one more Valeo to come and all the red marks in the world to Miss Schramm.

Ken VonEisengrein leaves the school to his two younger brothers.

Linda Vossen leaves the movies without popcorn to Mr. Graft, all the manure in the world for other students to shovel for Miss Breakall.

Jim Walsh leaves Murphy to Mr. "T," Steve to Mr. "C," and his demerits to Michelle.

Jane Woishnis leaves with the fondest memories that anyone could ever have of Suffield High School.

Steve Zaczynski leaves with Katie.

Jerry Zak leaves with hopes of coming back sometime or another.

Steve Zavisza leaves all the Latin translation and its problems to all unsuspecting Latin III students.

Dirk Zeno leaves knowing Mr. Tanguay will someday learn to spell Zeno with an "e" instead of an "i."

Picture of a man about to make a mistake

He's shopping around for a diamond "bargain," but shopping for "price" alone isn't the wise way to find one. It takes a skilled professional and scientific instruments to judge the more important price determining factors—Cutting, Color and Clarity. As an AGS jeweler, you can rely on our gemological training and ethics to properly advise you on your next important diamond purchase. Stop in soon and see our fine selection of gems she will be proud to wear.
